Dedication

Dedication

We, the June '53 Class of Commercial High, dedicate this annual to an old soldier. No, he has no emblems to denote rank, no medals for bravery, no wounds of battle; but his rank is the highest in the hearts of those who love him, and by his deeds he has earned medals that time will never erase -- medals of love, respect, honor and friendship. His wounds are many, for no problem is ever too great or too small to burden his heart when one of his children is in trouble. He has fought as no soldier has ever fought before, always fighting to give his children the very best. He has burned his name not only in the hearts and memories of his students but into the very name of Commercial High School. So we dedicate this annual to an old soldier who will live forever in the memory of all who know him, ARTHUR J. FUNK, principal of Commercial High School.

Prophecy

Dear Carole:

Goodness it's been a long time since I have seen you! How are you doing with your six boys?

I met an old friend of ours the other day, and guess who it was-- Mary Frances Hadden. The first thing she wanted to know was, "What has happened to Carole Chafin?" I told her that you were Mrs. Williams and that you and your husband and six boys were living in the Fiji Islands.

I guess you would like to know what has happened to your old friends during the ten years you have been away from civilization. You know Mary is teaching shorthand at Commercial now. They say she is better than Mrs. Martha G.

Eveylene Bowen (Fulcher) is just about the richest woman in town. It seems her husband invented a tonic to make short people grow taller and got plumb rich off of it. Peggy Averet and Betty Quarterman almost went broke buying tonic, but they got their reward; for they are now 6 ft. tall girls with Ringling Bros. Circus.

Speaking of circuses, you remember Joe Page. He is acting as a replacement for Gargantua. He really makes a good one too. You know Larry Sapp is president of the First National Bank, Ray Hatfield is making thousands of records a week of that old song "It's in the Book", and Lynford Hadwin owns car lots all over the country. My, didn't they go separate ways?

We dropped in at Commercial the other day and guess who is principal? Fritz Harrison. They had to build a special desk and chair for him, because he now weighs 300 pounds. When we entered his office, he was screaming at the coach, who is Robert White, because the football team had lost one game during the season. Bob was so mad that he would have quit if it had not been for his wife, Marie Miles White, and their little Miles. We saw Lescoe Bourne while we were there. He is coaching the track team. He told us that Joyce Scott had been coach of the girls' basketball team, but that some millionaire had swept her off of her feet.

You remember Earline Futch and Barbara Howell. They are both famous painters now. Earline did teach for a while. Jimmie King is teaching bookkeeping now. The Poor boy just couldn't stand that shorthand any longer so he switched to bookkeeping. If there was ever a Mr. Caterisan it's Jimmie. Ronnie Allen is teaching the band and Margie DeLoach is teaching history. It surely looks like the graduates took over the old school.

Patsy Osteen, the poor old soul, is an old maid. She lives alone with her twenty-four cats. They say that poor Reba Bowen is just about as bad. She raises ducks and names every one after her old boy friend, Jake.

Sunday we went to church, and guess who was the preacher? It was Frankie Ward. Miriam Barnard was the pianist, choir director, and one-girl choir. After Church, we rode out to the biggest drive-in restaurant in town, "Your House." It is owned by William Tice and his wife, the former Lou Wasden. The man who came to clean our windshield with champagne and give us our gold-plated toothpicks was none other than Michael Maner.

While we were eating, a horn honked and we turned to see Beverly Durden and her new husband. They make a beautiful couple. He is five feet tall. Oh well, there are always stilts.

As we were leaving the drive-in we had a collision, and who do you think was in the other car? It was Brad Waddell in a hotrod. He owns so many now that he just throws them away when he wrecks them. You know poor old Arnold Bacon is Brad's handyman. He just runs around picking up arms and legs when there is an accident. Well to make a long story short, we all went down to the jailhouse, where the chief, Bob Bryant ordered his cell keeper, Clarence Boyd, to put Brad in jail: being as it was his fiftieth offense. Just guess who was in the cell next to Brad? It was none other than Ed Hagin. He really hadn't done anything, but he said it was just so comfortable there. We felt so sorry for the poor boys that we called the Mayor, who is Ed Harvey; and after talking it over with some of his aldermen, James Alford, James Brown, Raiford Cowart, and J. L. Curry, he agreed to issue a pardon.

Gretchen Davis and Joyce Boyles are now top-notch secretaries for big lawyers. Gretchen works for Jesse Edenfield, and Joyce works for Freddie Dixon.

So many of the girls are in Hollywood and New York now. Linda Durrence is a millionaire bubble dancer; Shirley Jackson, Hilda Jones, and Margaret Oglesby are members of the chorus for M.G.M.: and Edwina Walden is a famous hula dancer. Sarah Carter is being starred as the No. 1 child star (at 27), and Mary Lois Sorrow has put Judy Canova out of business. Hollywood's top producer is Jack Adams, who, along with his lovely wife, Dot Moody, owns millions.

They say the greatest opera singers of all time are LeVora Harley and Annette Scott. Marion Wood is now playing the piano with the Metropolitan Symphony Orchestra. Margie Lewis, Lavora Ruis, and Josie Mae Lariscy are models for Powere Model Agency. The designer for the agency is Leonard Jordan. Just imagine what a fine husband he must make.

You know, I keep pretty busy with school work with these children of mine. The other day I went to a P.T.A. meeting, and the president was Billie Wade Chandler (Hall). They say she has a child in every grade. The secretary of the P.T.A. was Joan Chester. She always did make a good one. The guest speaker was James Cole, who is quite an authority on physiology. You know he was always so quiet and distinguished.

We are having state elections next month. Esther Courson is running for governor. Lila Harris is her campaign manager. You know Georgia has an all woman government now. Barbara McKay is the retiring governor. Darlene Medlock is the Attourney General. The senators from Georgia now are Beurchael Nichols and Derrell Sapp.

Quite a number of our old friends have entered the medical profession. Carlos Turner is a dentist; Dot Williams, Noelene Raiford, and Frankalene Johns are still trying to get out of nursing school; and Frankalene Johns are still trying to get out of nursing school; and William Smith was a doctor, but when he took out a lady's liver instead of her appendix, the medical profession decided they did not need him any more.

We have quite a few businessmen and women among our old friends too. Gretta Crosby is private secretary to the president of the Central of Georgia Railway, who is Bobby Dooley. Irmogene Bland is an accountant for Leopold Adler, Barbara Canady is buyer for Morris Levy, Shirley Evans works for Hogans, and Emilie Franklin owns every theater in town. Gerry Deason is now owner and manager of the Teen Shop.

Do you remember Theresa Cloud? She is playing a bass fiddle in a symphony orchestra. By the way, she plays with her toes.

Hugh Helmy and Herbert Horton are playing professional baseball and Ed Corley is playing professional football. William Harrell holds the heavyweight championship of the world. He has a fine case of cauliflower ears. Earl Godbee is his manager. Our old friend Bobby Overstreet got so sad when his girl left him that he jumped in the ocean and swam all the way to Alaska. The poor boy broke all records but wouldn't come home to get his trophy.

Charles Nettis is now a pilot for the J.D. Latzak Air Lines, ^{Marion} Johnson is an airplane mechanic, and Deron Moore and Iona Lanigan are airline Hostesses.

Waymon Lee is a weatherman -- the poor guy. Everyone blames him for the weather.

We just recently held the contest for Miss America. Ann Hallford was chosen Miss America. Miss Florida was Phyllis Lyons, Miss South Carolina was Barbara Zipperer, and Miss North Carolina was Deloris Niver. Mrs. America was none other than the former Shirley McCoy.

The other day I took Robert Jr. and Coochie Jr. downtown on a shopping trip and ran into lots of our old friends. Melvin Gradick and his wife were buying a baby carriage for their latest boy, who is the twelfth. Eileen King was the salesgirl. I found out that Beatrice Lanier was head of the men's department. Ah! what a job.

The biggest beauty shop here now is run by Zeletia Smith. Mr. Irving (Klopp that is) is the most well-known hair stylist in this part of the country. Joyce Duncan and Gale Floyd are hair stylists too.

Joyce Jarriel is now top secretary for Elton VanBrackle at the Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. Billie Ray Jones and Dannette Kennedy are top-notch typists and Lorretta Kessler and Charlotte Waters are operators there.

While walking through the park the other day, I saw Ann Huffman (Adams). It seems she is running a home for old presidents, dedicated to the memory of her great ancestor, John Quincy. Betty McCorkle was walking her three children. She married a comedian who is part of a team called "Dean Martin and Larry Lewis". Alice Weissman and Lea Weinburg (the poor old souls) were hobbling through, through the park, mumbling to themselves about colons and semi-colons. It seems that shorthand affected their minds in a bad way.

As we were leaving the park, Junior asked, "Mother what is that big grey building?" I explained that it was the "Old Maid's Heaven" run by Anita Wilson. It seems that Marie Consos and Tresa Porter are the star borders. Marie was leaning out of the window yelling at the peanut man, who was Rudy Gould. The poor man was having a fit; because the organ grinder, Earl McTier, had let his monkey, Thomas Marshall get into his peanuts. We threw Thomas a nickle and were on our merry way

A good many of our friends have moved away. Kenneth Wallace and Lewis Ward are co-owners of a big cattle ranch out in Houston. Louanna Collins and Shirley Bryant married wealthy cattle owners in Houston, and Betty Cooler and Joyce Killgo have turned cow on us too, they are living in San Antonio. Lillian Smith is good will ambassador to South America, and Barbara Martin is a missionary in China. I know you have heard of "Doyle Pineapple" -- well that my dear is Doyle Watson. He owns a big pineapple plantation in Hawaii. He also owns a number of beautiful hula girls. Betty Winskie, Edna Leggett, and Lois Arledge are among them. Leonard Wombie is also a wealthy plantation owner. Speaking of wealthy people, Janet Anderson went to Ireland and took over the potato industry. She is now trying to figure out a way to grow french-fried potatoes. Her chief peelers are Janice Lowe and Ann Murray.

Patty Rogers is a lady disc jockey for W.P.D.Q. now. Alice Griffin has her own program, "Beauty Tips for Women", and Peggy Rooler has a new program called "How to Get Your Man and Keep Him".

Nellie Highsmith is hostess in the Savannah Hotel, and Betty Jean Roberts is head cook at Morrison's. Alma Hall is running the Ba-by-dy-de service now. Isn't that sweet? Virginia Bracewell is a playground director in Forsyth Park, and Annelle Pittman is teaching dancing at Marilyn Youman's old studio.

Margaret Rowe is now the official babysitter for President Ike's grandchildren, and Shirley Shaw is a big worker for the Red Cross.

You remember Connie Scott. She is commanding officer of the WAC's. Carolyn Kicklighter is a member of the WAC's and Virginia McNure is a WAVE. James Kicklighter is a pilot in the Air Force. He holds quite a record. Hazel McNear is doing fine as a lady air-raid warden.

Raymond Usher, who is an atomic scientist, is organizing a trip to Mars. Sidney Love is going to pilot the rocket. Faye Heidt is going along to look for a husband. None of the critters on earth suit her. Wylene Moore plans to open a big cheese industry if it is true that the moon is made of green cheese. Mary Veno, who is a germ specialist, is going along to examine the germs. Nancy Smith was planning to go for her health; but there wasn't room for her pet elephant, so she changed her mind.

Our club is having a big banquet and dance at the Country Club tonight. Jacqueline Braddock is to be hostess. She and Lavada Bragg are just about the Society leaders here in town now. Of course, Virginia Blackwell is a pretty big shot, being the owner of the Union Bag. Speaking of big shots, I have a new neighbor who is so rich that she takes baths in milk. Her name is Viola Wasson.

I know you remember Honey Spivey. She was a pretty wealthy woman until someone took the stretch out of her elastic industry. Now the poor girl shines shoes for a living. I guess she would starve to death if it were not for her old pal, Mary Nell Harrell, who takes her a can of beans every week. Mary Nell is a wealthy stock broker now and ----- Sniff, sniff, Oh! Oh! I smell something burning. I think Junior is setting the kitchen table on fire again. I'd better close for now. Enclosed are some recipes for fixing pineapples and coconuts. I'll write again when the mail goes through in another ten years.

Your old friend,

Eleanor (Coochie) Dix

SAVANNA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

Congratulations and Best Wishes !

In or out of school, one thing everyone learns is that Electricity plays a big part in life.

Electricity does more than provide light for the home. It also does just about everything else you can think of vacuum rugs, cook food, wash and dry clothes, keep foods fresh in refrigerators and deep-freeze cabinets.

Electricity plays your radio and TV set, operates all kinds of machinery, electric fans and air conditioners. Everywhere you turn, you see something being done by and with Electricity. Another thing you should learn, is that the more Electricity you use in your home, the easier and more pleasant life can be!
